

Extron MediaLink™ Systems

Pre-Designed A/V Systems for Any Classroom

As the leader in audio-visual system integration solutions, Extron has developed an extensive line of “glue” products that interconnect A/V products into complete systems for educational, corporate, and institutional settings.

Now, to become your one-stop source for A/V integration equipment, we have introduced a wide series of Pre-Designed MediaLink Systems that include all the various parts and components needed for a complete system. Just add a projector, screen, and sources and we provide all the control, interconnection, switching, mounting, and audio reinforcement products needed for a well-equipped classroom.
